Well Traveled: A Ski Trip to Jackson Hole, Wyoming

The valley that's home to Teton Village and the historic town of Jackson is a favorite escape for Allyn Media President and CEO Mari Woodlief.

The stylish and luxe Hotel Terra, at the base of Jackson Hole Mountain Resort, was Wyoming's first LEED Silver-certified hotel.

Lucky for us, Hotel Terra also had an FDRG restaurant, Il Villaggio Osteria. The upscale Italian fare at dinner was delicious, but don't sleep on breakfast standouts like the house-made granola or wild mushroom and egg tartine. The restaurant's bar is a popular après-ski spot; one afternoon while we were there, a representative from Aperol was handing out swag. I now wear a bright-orange Aperol Spritz hat with pride—it's my favorite post-ski refresher.
