The Best Snow Town in the West

A great snow town lets you ski fast, sleep well, and eat adventurously. The West has lots of great ones. And Jackson, Wyoming, is the greatest of them all. By Josh Dean

YOUR IDEAL WEEKEND: JACKSON, WY

TASTE THE TOWN

DINNER Transplanted Chicago restaurateur Gavin Fine has a mini empire growing in Jackson, and you're in good hands at any of his seven eateries. Rendezvous Bistro ($$) is the original, and it's home to the best hamburger around, topped with bacon, white cheddar, and roasted-garlic-and-dill aioli. Bin22 ($), his latest, is a wine bar with tapas. The best part? You can buy wine in the attached shop and drink it at dinner with no corkage fee. jhfinedining.com.
