

An All-Year Destination: A Visitor's Guide to the Luxury Side of Jackson Hole, Wyoming

Dec. 25th, 2014 | Comments 0 | Make a Comment

Where To Eat and Drink

Don't miss one of Jackson Hole's hottest tables at The Kitchen by Fine Dining Restaurant Group. Presenting a menu packed with local ingredients, plenty of fresh fish and a wine list endorsed by Wine Enthusiast, The Kitchen's warm atmosphere is intimate and family-friendly. Try the grilled Sherry-Honey Glazed Salmon with a delightful sauvignon blanc.

For lunch Bin 22, Jackson's premier wine bar and shop, is the perfect stop with tapas-styled small plates on menu with wines by the glass. Grilled artichoke and house-pulled mozzarella are standouts along with other dishes; the chefs do an outstanding job. On the way out (and conveniently situated), guests must walk through the Wine Market, making it impossible to leave without picking up a bottle or two.