

FOOD & WINE

JULY 2013

MEET AMERICA'S MOST EXCITING NEW TALENT

BEST NEW CHEFS

A Guide to the Best New Wine Shops

It's not enough to just stock terrific bottles: An outstanding wine shop must also have a strong point of view. These new stores all do, reflecting their owners' passions.

BY MEGAN KRIGBAUM

A wine expert's guide to finding the best bottle for you

JACKSON, WY

BIN 22

Gavin Fine always had a talent for picking good wines for his four Jackson Hole restaurants. So much so, in fact, that "Wine shops in the area used to call me and say, 'Hey, what are you pouring by the glass at Rendezvous Bistro or Il Villaggio Osteria? We want to carry them, because people keep asking for them.'" Now at his own new shop, Bin 22, he sells every wine he serves by the glass in all of his restaurants. Three sommeliers help customers with pairings, choosing from the Italian-heavy selection of value-priced ($10–$15) bottles. The attached wine bar serves 25 wines by the glass, small plates and six house-made mozzarellas. 200 W. Broadway; bin22jacksonhole.com.