Wyoming: Bodega - Triple fried chicken sandwich

Some of the best chicken sandwiches in the country come from a food truck, and this happens to be the case with the fried chicken sandwich at Bodega. Located in Teton Village, the item is well worth a visit when you're in Wyoming. People especially like the triple-fried chicken sandwich because of its tender chicken and spicy sauce. Unlike some other popular chicken sandwiches in the state, this one is made with quality ingredients and attention to detail, setting it a cut above the rest.
