

Martinis and “Fries” in Jackson Hole

April 21, 2025 / Sam Simma / Daily Dish

Who says martinis and fries don't go together? In Jackson Hole, some of our favorite restaurants are proving that this unlikely duo is a match made in foodie heaven. From creative spins on martinis, to “fries” that redefine tradition, here's your guide to where to sip and snack in style.

The Bistro

Think outside the spud at The Bistro! Their panisse chickpea fries are served with tahini sauce, mint oil and fried kale for a crispy, earthy bite that plays beautifully with the bright flavors of their Martini D'granat. This citrusy creation combines orange-flavored vodka, pomegranate and lime that strikes the perfect balance of tart and sweet.
