Jackson Hole's town square isn't very large but it's jam packed with shops, bars and the postcard-worthy antler arch. Take a photo of your own in front of the arch (there might be a line but it's worth it) then start exploring. Design your very own cowboy hat or buy some authentic Western accessories at Jackson Hole Hat Company. Enjoy a meal at The Kitchen modern, Asian-fusion restaurant. We recommend the ramen, which incorporates kimchi and gochujang. After your dinner, take a short walk to the Million Dollar Cowboy Bar for some drinks and Western dancing.
