FOR ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY, JACKSON HOLE IS ELEVATING ITS GAME WITHOUT LOSING ITS COWBOY SPIRIT

by Suzanne Gannon

Refueling options range from sophisticated riffs on gas-station grub to an award-winning local whiskey petite hideaway Bin22 offers tapas-style dishes and an expert wine list. Tucked inside a gas station on the edge of Teton Village there's Bodega, which offers up a sophisticated take on road trip essentials, like charcuterie from haute deli The Meatery. The addictive frozen cocktails called Sloshies are a must if you can handle the brain freeze (and aren't driving).
